School Board Votes to Send Pupils to Lower Merion

Several Letters are Received on Action to Combine the Upper Schools

Letters on Subject Statement by Board

IS FEBRUARY 14TH THE FINAL DATE FOR NEGOTIATIONS?

Mr. C. Howard McCarter, Pres., Narberth School Board, Narberth, Pa.

Dear Mr. McCarter:—

I have been informed that the School Board is very carefully considering relief to the overcrowded condition of our schools by the means of sending high school students to Lower Merion. May I ask, however if the School Board is our Town.

PD of Lower Merion Township has fixed February 14th as the final date for the completion of such arrangements? As many of our citizens are interested in this question I am sending a copy of this letter to "Our Town," and would suggest in replying you also send a carbon to the Editor.

Thank you for the favor of an early response.

Respectfully yours,
W. A. FOX.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

As one of the citizens seeking enlightenment on the High School question at the regular meeting of the School Board last Monday evening, permit me to express two feelings with which I came away. The first is one of appreciation of the meticulous courtesy of the Board to its guests, and of its promise to make full public statement, "authoritatively and officially" of its position through the columns of "Our Town" this week. I am one of many who will look eagerly to this statement to clear up all uncertainty as to the Board's attitude on this vital and urgent problem.

The other feeling was one of keen disappointment that the Board refused to allow its citizen guests to be present during its own discussion and final determination. I had more than once heard the President and other members of the Board state that the Board had absolutely nothing to hide, I for one had begun to feel I deserved their reproach that their meetings, which were "always open," were not more frequently attended. I felt they were justified in criticizing second and third-hand impressions and information, when these might be gained first-hand from the Board itself at its meetings. So I went to this meeting hoping to get a clear first-hand understanding of the point-of-view of the several members of the Board.

As the courteous discussion and answering of questions put by various citizens proceeded, it seemed as if the guests, instead of helping, were fondly delaying the final determination which Mr. McCarter said the Board hoped to reach that evening. So the President was asked whether the Board would not prefer to go ahead with its regular business without interruption from its guests, who could sit silent and reserve further questions until the Board had completed its deliberations and taken its vote. Mr. McCarter replied that he thought that would hardly be satisfactory to the visitors present; that frequently the meetings were short, but that tonight the Board had one or two other questions to settle before it came to the High School matter, which would make it too late for the visitors to stay through to the end. He was then asked if it would interfere with the Board's action if those who were interested enough and able to stay through to the end, did so, no matter how late the hour. Then he replied that the presence of the visitors would be a distinct interference with the work of the Board, that the High School problem involved questions which the Board would much prefer to talk over quietly and confidentially among themselves, and that if the visitors should insist on remaining, the Board would find it necessary to go into "executive session."

In the face of such a statement from the President, there was obviously nothing left for the citizens present but to prove their spirit of co-operation by granting the Board the complete freedom from even silent listeners clearly desired. Thereupon all the visiting citizens withdrew. I am still

New Secretary For School Association

Miss Ivy McLean is Elected to Fill Post

Miss Ivy McLean was elected Secretary of the Home and School Association at a recent meeting of the Executive Committee at the home of the President, Howard A. Banks, on Woodside Avenue. Miss McLean takes the place of Mrs. Leroy C. Douglas, who recently resigned. Miss McLean is a taxpayer, has a niece in the local school, and is interested keenly in the welfare of the Community. She will make a valuable addition to the official Directorate of the Association, the officers of which consist of the following:

President, Howard A. Banks.
Vice President, Fred C. Patten.
Secretary, Miss Ivy McLean.
Treasurer, Jesse S. Harris.
At large, Mrs. Abbie Nickerson.
Chairman of Program Committee—Arthur W. Burns.
Chairman of Publicity Committee—Walton M. Wentz.

Mr. Henry Wood Shelton has been asked to take the chairmanship of the Welfare Committee, and has the matter under advisement.

Dr. Leroy A. King, of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Rev. Harry M. Chalfant have rendered appreciated service as committee men.

The next meeting of the Association is likely to be an important one, of equal interest to the one at which Dr. Lewis, of the State Board of Education, told what an ideal High School should be, as reported in "Our Town" last week. Fuller announcement as to the program of the next meeting, which will be held the third Thursday in February, will be made next week.

Put that date on your calendar, and don't let the movies, or anything else get in the way of it.

MR. JOHN BRAUN OF THE ART ALLIANCE TO SPEAK

Community Club to Have Art Afternoon

The meeting of the Women's Community Club next Tuesday will be given over to the discussion of art and American artists. This is the first time that this subject has been presented before the general Club meeting, and regardless of how familiar you are with the topic, you may be sure that Mr. Braun's talk will be unusually interesting, especially in view of the very marked development of American art and the really fine things that American artists have contributed to the world of art. Mr. Braun is President of the Art Alliance, and his subject will be "American Artists."

Mrs. W. E. Blodgett, who was unable to report at the last meeting because of sickness in the family, will this week give her report on the Monday Conference.

Mrs. J. F. Donnelly, chairman of the Dramatic Reading Class which has so ably presented a sketch before the Club, will read a short play by A. A. Milne entitled "The Stepmother."

Mrs. W. F. Kempf will give a piano solo.

The "Nursery down-stairs" will be in working order to receive children of members. Charge 15 cents.

Bring along your pocketbook. The Club House chimney will receive your offering.

Narberth, Pa.

Dear Elizabeth:

You asked in your last letter what new work our Community Club is doing. Well, lots of interesting things in the way of classes—such as French, Current Events, Dramatic Reading, Educational Tours, etc. But the newest work, and I think, the most worthwhile, is that of a number of our members who have been visiting and caring for the sick. You know that the amount of illness in the past month has been appalling, and the need and scarcity of nurses really serious.

In many cases several in a family have been sick at the same time, and there has been no one to nurse them. Some of our women have done actual nursing, and others have helped by sitting with a patient to let a tired mother rest, and by making broths and other needed foods. Our Department of Home Comforts for the sick has been a wonderful success, and fills a long-standing need.

Basket Ball Team Puts Narberth On Athletic Map

Adds Two More to Long String of Victories

The Narberth Basket Ball team won one of the most exciting games of basket ball ever staged in the Y. M. C. A. when the 20th Ward team was defeated after a 5 minute extra period, by a 31-24 score. The score seened during the first twenty minutes of play. The count was deadlocked no less than four times, but towards the close of the half Narberth went ahead by 10-0.

The Warders started the second half with a rush and soon went ahead by one point, 17-16. The visitors held their lead until Vernie Fleck cut loose for a beautiful shot as the bell tolled. An extra period of 5 minutes was played and "Gene" Davis, the cigar counter guardian, placed two beautiful field goals in the net and further testimony to the "war horse" added one more to his total while all good sort of a place in which to live, because the people are the kind you like to know.

The Narberth regulars added another victory to their long string when they defeated Hancock under a 31-24 score. The game started out with a bang, and at the end of the first half had a commanding lead of 23-4. During the second half several changes were made which enabled the visitors to make a remarkable finish.

Last Thursday the local team traveled to Paoli and showed the home boys how the game should be played, by giving them a 54-16 trouncing. A total of twenty-five field goals were scored by the "town boys," and they went to Paoli, 9; Durbin, 7; Cook, 5; Yocell, 1; Jenkins, 2; Heckle, 1.

Tonight, Feb. 3, the E. P. C. of the Germantown Boys' Club will be played on our floor. This team has defeated such clubs as Colonial Ice Cream, Overbrook Carpet Co., and a lot of others, and they expect to add Narberth to their list. Come over to the "Y" tonight and see them try to do it. A great game is in the making for Sat. Feb. 10, when George Sullivan, the star of P. football and basketball player,

KNOW YOUR OWN TOWN

In many cities and towns the people who live in the pretty residence neighborhoods often have little conception of the other portions of the same place where living is not so pleasant. It would do them good once in a while to pass through the localities where people live in a more struggling way and have to put up with things they don't like.

In many towns there is carelessness in tolerating poorly constructed streets and walks in sections of the town where the people are not prosperous. Nuisances may be permitted there that would cause protest if they occurred in the more attractive neighborhoods.

Fastidious people sometimes are repelled from the less attractive portions of their own community, and if they drive or walk, prefer to keep to the pleasant localities. But if one is to do his part toward the improvement of his home town, he should be thoroughly familiar with conditions in all its neighborhoods. His influence should be cast for a policy that would distribute favors and advantages fairly through all portions of the community.

Public feeling controls living conditions a good deal and the sentiment of the community should work for good sanitary and housing and other conditions in all neighborhoods. Landlords and other owners should be urged to keep up their property and should realize that run-down real estate is apt to be a poor investment.

The real test of civic conditions is not in the appearance of the more handsome homes. These add their own fine and artistic touch and give the community a certain "tone." But the real question is as to what is being done for the neighborhoods where the most struggling people live, and whether such localities are wholesome and reasonably well kept, so that young people feel self-respect and are incited to cherish standards of order and care.

Talks About Narberth

(Conducted by the Civic Association)

A Reason For Being

Why do some folks prefer to live in the large cities? Why do some elect to live in the country or on the farm? And why do many choose to live in the suburbs or in small towns convenient to the large cities?

To answer the last question let us say that in the hearts of many of the better citizens of this country there is an impulse that compels them to locate their homes where they can enjoy the beauties of nature and the healthy atmosphere that the outdoors offers—not only for the older members of the family but more especially for the children.

Our business requires that we be convenient to the big cities so that the solution is the suburbs.

Suburbs such as Narberth have developed into small towns, as residence towns complete within themselves, local government, local schools and churches, local civic and social organizations, athletic organizations, shops and stores all made up of ourselves, our friends and neighbors.

In this feature of community life the small town is particularly fortunate, the spirit of neighborliness, of better acquaintanceship, work and play for everyone and always a neighbor who has a hobby just like your own.

And what is the price we pay for all the advantages of small town home life. Merely a sympathetic understanding of the other fellow's viewpoint. Many personalities with a common thought—a better home and a better home town—the making of a better America, and making the world a better place in which to live.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

There being unfortunately nothing of moment to write about this week, we shall (a worthy Editor willing) cast the lead into that bottomless Well of Wisdom and Truth which is none other than the Column itself, in a futile effort to sound its depths. And so, with this preamble, we take another step along the road that links the Joy of Living with Scholarship, Respect for the Past and Love for the Sublime and the Ridiculous, and leave these few pearls before our gentle readers to enliven them over this week end.

We endeavored, however, to accumulate sufficient inspiration through lunching with the Colonel at Cafe Abboni, in the city. Rest easy! the name does not imply abandon. Positively not. As a matter of fact everything about the place is precise, puritan and as plain as a pipe stem to the highest degree of orthodoxy. The environment would earn the approval of our staid Women's Community Club or the quiet Tennis Association itself, even if the latter does permit its majestic rubber trees to freeze to death. The Colonel insisted on five thousand lineal feet of fresh killed spaghetti bathed in tomato sauce and sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese. We were offered no alternative save to follow suit. His Italian ancestry manifests itself clearly in the left manner in which, with the aid of a large spoon and Divine Providence, he winds fifty foot lengths of this delectable provender about the times of his fork and accomplishes the delivery of it to destination, never dropping a trace of the blood-red sauce upon his cravat or waistcoat. Frankly speaking, our sporting proclivities are not developed to this extent. We calmly cut up the leviathan fishworm that heaped our platter and made away with it after true American fashion—much to the Colonel's disgust.

No, there is nothing of any moment to write about except to tell you someone has graciously enough advised us the Column is a very diverting department of this paper. So it is! So it is! And primarily because those who read always remain in the dingle-dangle of that awful suspense of not knowing what's going to be said next.

For a year now have we wooed Public Taste with a mixture of blandishment, unvarnished gall and diablerie almost bringing to mind the actions of the insane old gentleman told of in "Nicholas Nickleby" who essayed to boost his popularity and press his suit with a certain audience by hurling vegetables over a garden wall. "Do they like squash; whang! take that!" we mutter metaphorically as we project a quarter peck of turnips or a can of baked beans at our devoted following.

Mayhap our queer missiles hit Public Taste in the eye, so to speak, and after the first shock it sits up and takes notice in a fashion both remarkable and sympathetic. Again, maybe we miss our mark altogether. Put score we a hit or score we a miss, the results seldom fall short of being exhilarating to say the least.

The inimitable tact and evasion practiced by a prominent State Educator at a meeting not so long ago reminded us of a tale told of our maternal grandmother. It appeared she did not care to be intimate with a particularly persistent lady caller and instructed one of her domestics (a wily Irish damsel) to give said lady an evasive answer upon her next arrival. And the lady came a few days later—so the story goes. "Is Mrs. Walker at home?" inquired the unappreciated caller. "She is not!" returned the domestic. "When will she be at home?" insisted the visitor. "Was yer grandmother a monkey?" came the answer from the daughter of Ireland. An evasive one, and no mistake. It occurs to us that Narberth is concerned in more Education and less Agitation. Although

It is inevitable that in these weekly contributions to American literature we should at odd times fail to be understood by sundry scanners of our humble efforts. Which is not our fault! A practice of the Column has ever been to know conditions fully before endeavoring to correct them (if wrong) or to commend them (if right) and while it is not intended we shall pose as an Oracle, yet in many instances our candid critics (and welcome as well) have found the shoe to fit themselves instead of us.

Never is it wise to plunge into anything unprepared. We did such a thing once in our younger days. The remembrance of the occasion is as fresh now as in 1897. Being called upon in Latin class on a day when by all systems of rotation we should not have been; in the excitement of our unpreparedness we made an attempt to foist off in suicidum committere upon the head of the Ancient Languages as first rate translation for the phrase "to commit suicide." It did not work. The only reward obtained was privilege of doing two full pages of Composition the following day. All of which bears out what a veritable mine of veracity lurks in our first sentence above.

Strange to relate, even in these enlightened times, many go out on ventures unprepared. While we approach this subject with bated breath and gummed heels on account of unpopularity with an excellent Choral Society hereabouts, still we feel the handsome, silver-haired lady with her smart, brown suede hat who wished to have a Concert card displayed in the Narberth Buss at the Sixty-third Street end of the line last Wednesday afternoon around three thirty, might have accomplished her mission better had she come out with a hammer and a paper of tacks. Never fear, silver-haired lady! the card went up. We saw to that. The driver on duty is a friend of ours. But he had to extract a tack from his Rate Card with the aid of an old trousers hanger to do the job.

For some inexplicable reason best known to others, we have never been asked to affiliate ourself with any of Narberth's social or sportive organizations. A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Last Monday we received an invitation to join the Westchester Biltmore Country Club at Rye, New York. Every diamond has its flaw. Upon investigation the membership fee was found to be eleven hundred dollars. So we shall defer action for a couple of weeks anyway. There is a coal bill coming due.

We are indeed sorry to have Irene Winchester leave us and go to New York, for she has been a good worker for the Club—taking an active part ever since she joined, and she has proved her ability time and time again. Her unexpired term as Treasurer will be taken by Mrs. Ben Durbin whom we know will also be "right on the job."

Friday evening, March 2nd, is the date chosen for our play. For details see special notice of same elsewhere in this issue, and also be on the look out for further announcements.

Are you a member of The Narberth Civic Association?

eventually (as every rational citizen knows) a conservative amount of the latter administered by the proper hands at the proper time in the proper places, will no doubt go far toward promoting proper interest in the former and securing the best facilities for our Boro.

Which reminds us. For the most part, our reading this past week has been Mrs. Humphry Ward's translation of "The Intimate Journal of Henri Frederic Amiel" and a more charming thing has never been written. A pertinent and cogent sentence of the old philosopher runs to this effect and fits the situation just mentioned, "Human life is like Science; a sequence of mistakes with generally a true direction."

All told, it was an uneventful week—barring the excitement of being delivered at the front door of Joseph Hergesheimer's West Chester, Pennsylvania residence in a Ford milk truck. To arrive at the mansion of this popular novelist (with whom we played in our youth) heralded by the jangle of cream cans and the rattle of loose bottles can scarcely be according to the best and most polite mannerisms. But it was thrilling and unusual to say the least.

And In Conclusion—

Most Honourable Collum Righter:
Pick up the marbles—you win.
Yours till Plymouth Rocks,
JIM DARVILLE.

SCOUT NEWS

On Friday, January 19th, a Scout meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A., to which meeting parents and friends were invited. The Chief Scout Executive of Montgomery and Delaware Counties, Mr. Edward Carlson was present, as was his assistant, Mr. J. W. Patton.

A very interesting feature of the evening was the presentation by our Burgess, Mr. Carl Metzger, of Eagle Scout badges which is the highest honor to which a Scout can attain, to the following members of the Troop:

Atherton Lane,
Robert Patten,
Joseph Snyder.

This merit badge is only achieved by hard work on the part of the boys, and they are to be congratulated on having made it. Narberth should be proud of them as we are the only Troop in the two counties with three Eagle Scouts.

At the request of the Scoutmaster, the following have volunteered to serve as a Committee to co-operate with him in the direction of the affairs of the Troop:

William C. Claghorn, (chairman)
Jesse S. Harris,
Frederic A. Lanahan
E. K. Monnington
Edward T. Wolf.

Mr. Patten, Scoutmaster, is a member of the Committee (ex-officio).

JUNIOR COMMUNITY CLUB

"A good time was had by all"—is the report one hears on every side about the meeting of the Junior Community Club which was on January 25th, in the attractive little Boot Shop on Avon Road. Being the last meeting which our Treasurer, who by the way is, or should we say was, Irene Winchester, would be with us, the main idea, of course, was to give her a good time so she wouldn't forget us. A very amusing and original sketch entitled "Thirty Years Hence" was presented by the co-authors, Ruth Haws, Peg Eckbert and Evelyn Worth. Ruth Haws, as postmistress, handed out, instead of mail, a line of gossip concerning the different members of the Club which was quite enlightening. Strange to say the postmistress had no news of herself! Following the sketch sides were chosen and several games played—the most amusing being that of passing a lid of a safety match box down a line by means of one's nose. We might add here that pug-nosed girls were out of luck. As a proper and fitting finale to such an interesting meeting, hot chocolate and sandwiches were served and every one left happy.

We are indeed sorry to have Irene Winchester leave us and go to New York, for she has been a good worker for the Club—taking an active part ever since she joined, and she has proved her ability time and time again. Her unexpired term as Treasurer will be taken by Mrs. Ben Durbin whom we know will also be "right on the job."

REAL ESTATE NEWS

A real business opportunity for the right party. Location: the Broad and Chestnut Streets of Narberth. Aggressive business management will make a success of practically any business in this store, and the rent (which includes heat) is reasonable. And you can have a long lease, too. Service, courtesy and ability will reap quicker rewards in the small community than in the big city.

January, 1923, was the best January in all our experience. Indications all point to a very active Spring market and a scarcity of the "right kind" of Homes. Don't let February slip by if you are thinking of buying—get "busy" today. We are always at your service.

WYNNE FARM

There is very little left for sale in this attractive development, either in houses or building lots. Have you been thinking of locating in this section? If so, we urge that you act promptly. Detailed plans at our offices.

FREE BOOKS PREDOMINATE

Library Enters New Stage of Development—Buying Standard Works for Free Circulation

A point in the development of the Community Library has now been reached at which it is possible to make an announcement which has long been the hope and intention of those in charge. That is that the Library is now principally free and open to every reader without any charge. The small collection of rental books is now a decided minority of the total collection of nearly 1,500 volumes.

A free library, with rental charges for only the newest books, principally fiction, it will be from now on and in order to make this a fact in actual practice, in the future, it will be assumed that all books are free unless marked "rental collection" instead of the opposite policy by which only the free books have been labeled "free collection" in the past.

In connection with the farther extension and emphasis of the "Community" part of its name, the Library has inaugurated the practice of buying for free circulation any standard book for which there appears to be a steady demand. "David Copperfield," by Dickens, is an example. A new and attractive volume of this book has just been purchased for free circulation, because ever since the Library got under way there have been frequent calls for it and, although the Library acquired by gift many of Dickens' books, that was not among them.

Other standard novels which are scheduled for purchase just as soon as funds are available are "Lorna Doone" by the reading of which any one can perceive how poorly executed was the recent motion picture adaptation from it, "Old Wives' Tale," by Arnold Bennett; "Diana of the Crossways," by Meredith; "Anthea in the group" which has recently been purchased in response to local demand is "Far From the Madding Crowd," by Hardy.

The moral of this tale is: If you don't find the book you want at the Library, ask for it, and the chances are that it will appear and be available unto you.

School Consolidation

asking myself "Why should our Board, a public body, with 'nothing to hide,' refuse to carry on its deliberations in our presence?"

Henry Wood Shelton.

TO EACH PARENT OF EVERY CHILD IN NARBERTH:

I understand that at the meeting of our school board held Jan. 29, its president was "authorized" to arrange with the Lower Merion school board for the transfer thereto of only three classes of our high school.

Is this the best solution? Shortly after Dr. Lewis, Assistant Superintendent of the State Board of Education at Harrisburg, had convened with our board, he addressed members of the Home and School Association in the high school building; and while at first he was rather non-committal (it transpired that he had been informed that Narberth had sufficient land available to justify a continuance of its recent rapid growth), he stated later that larger and better equipped high schools can offer many more advantages to pupils than are available in smaller schools—that small classes cannot be expected to justify high-priced teachers, the necessary equipment for chemistry, etc.

If reports are correct, Feb. 14 will be the last day upon which the Lower Merion board will arrange for the transfer of our children next September. Is it not, therefore, your desire and duty, as well as mine, to ascertain whether or not our board has fully compared the following methods:

1. To send only the upper three classes to Lower Merion, thereby depriving the lower classes of the many benefits that are generally understood to be waiting for them, and in exchange for which Narberth shall accord to Lower Merion accommodation for its elementary pupils living within or in close proximity to our borough. Incidentally, the retention of high school classes will, I understand, necessitate high school expenses.

2. To send all of our high school scholars to Lower Merion, thereby not only affording them the best education available hereabouts, but also (again incidentally) relieving us of high school expenses. Again, children now sent to more distant points might be recalled.

Again, if I remember correctly, the president of our school board stated, in one of the meetings of our citizens, that the board would be glad to have you and me attend its meetings. On the contrary, I understand that about 20 of Narberth's visitors were asked to leave the board's meeting of January 29th; and I have since been informed that said citizens were legally entitled to remain, excepting only in case the board contemplated discussing either the employment or dismissal of a teacher or the purchase of real estate.

Respective of such difficulties in obtaining information in our School Board, let us do our part by volunteering to respond promptly to every call it may make upon us to assist in the solution of its problems and ours.

SAMUEL P. BOWMAN.

Community Club

Let me say in closing, that the gratitude of the people who have received such aid, is all the reward one can wish.

With all good wishes for the success of your new club, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Katherine.

Who believes in thirteen being an unlucky number, especially when it comes on Tuesday? That is going to be a lucky day for each and every member and friend of the Community Club, February 13th at 2 P. M., at the Y. M. C. A. a card party will be given for the benefit of the Building Fund. Members and friends are now being solicited for their support, and tickets are being disposed of rapidly. Cakes, mints and tea will be served. Tickets are 75 cents each, and may be obtained from any of the following committee: Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Mrs. James B. Smith, Mrs. John W. Joyce, Mrs. George W. Orth, Mrs. S. E. Jefferis, Mrs. Charles McKee, Mrs. F. O. Peacock, Mrs. George Gilpin, Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Haist and Mrs. Harold C. Fenn.

DO YOU LIKE GOOD MOVING PICTURES FOR YOUR CHILDREN?

In answer to an appeal from several mothers in the vicinity for a better class of moving pictures for children, the chairman of Civics of the Women's Community Club and a representative of the Women's Club of Ardmore recently arranged an interview with the manager of the Ardmore Theatre which receives a liberal patronage from the youth of Narberth.

This committee representing two large groups of progressive women requested that every effort be made on the part of the management to concentrate on suitable pictures for children, especially on the Saturday matinee which would logically seem to be the children's day. A most co-operative attitude was encountered and suggestions solicited.

In response to this appeal it will be gratifying to anxious mothers to know that on Saturday, Feb. 3 Jackie Coogan in "Trouble" will be the main feature, with the Fables, Johnny Jones Comedy and the Alphabetical Zoo. Surely a delightful children's program and one deserving patronage.

CHILDREN'S DANCING CLASS

Under the Auspices of the Women's Community Club

Heigho, Heigho, and a way we go, to the children's Saturday morning dancing class, from 10 A. M. to 12 noon.

If you have had the measles or the chicken pox and are now well, hurry back and the teacher will help you to make up for lost time and prepare for the final exhibition and party at the end of the season.

Oh, golly, won't we have fun? New pupils may come in now—the sooner the better.

Come to the Y. M. C. A. Saturday mornings or phone Narberth 1638 M for arrangements.

PRESBYTERIANS WALLOP BAPTISTS

The Presbyterians of the Inter-Church League, took a good healthy swim at the Baptists and won three straight games on Friday evening, Jan. 26th. The Baptists won three games from the Lutherans the previous week, and had visions of repeating the trick, but the Presbyterians were in the finest form they have shown this season, and wouldn't stand for it.

By winning these three games the Presbyterians again took the lead in league standing, the Baptists having held it for one week.

The score was as follows:

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

(Meets Every Second Monday in the Month)

In the determination to make available to the women of Narberth information pertaining to current, state and national legislation, arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, of Wynnewood, Ex-County chairman and a member of the State Board of the League, address the monthly meetings until further notice. Mrs. Schwartz has for some time past been a close student of legislative matters, and the advantages that accrue to her from her connection with the State board should not be underestimated.

If you are interested in knowing more about State legislators and their activities, as well as your representatives at Washington, now is your opportunity.

Can you afford to be indifferent in view of the fact that the activities of these respective bodies reflect to your advantage or otherwise?

Can you afford to remain out of the League of Women Voters? Certainly not. The League is the only organization that instructs and guides women on legislative and political matters exclusively. If you are a member please send your renewal at once to Mrs. E. C. Cockrill, 203 Essex Ave., and if you are not a member, enroll now. One dollar secures a membership, gives you access to all information disseminated at the various meetings. Remember, 75 per cent. of your dues helps to support the State organization, and permits them to maintain modest headquarters at Harrisburg throughout the year and thereby keep in close touch with your business and mine. The League's ambition is 100 per cent. renewal and 50 per cent. increase in membership for this year. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Towne, N. Narberth and Windsor Aves.

TO TALK OF ASIA'S INDIANS

"Indians of Asia" will be the subject of Mrs. J. Harvey Barton, of Moorestown, N. J., at the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church. It will be held in the Church on Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 2 P. M.

Mrs. Barton was for a number of years a Missionary in the Punjab, in India, for the United Presbyterian Church. She was present at the famous Sialkot Convention, which resulted in a remarkable revival, and was afterwards in India in which converts to Christianity were swept in by hundreds and even thousands.

Mrs. Barton will be remembered by many Narberth people as Mrs. Alice McClure, and was a frequent visitor at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Anderson, who were then residents of the Borough. She is a member of the Council of the Victorious Life Testimony, and has been a speaker at many Bible Conferences. Members of other Churches are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and Presbyterians especially are requested to mark the date on their calendars.

CHORAL SOCIETY NOTES

Monday, February 5th, will be the regular business meeting of the Choral Society at the Y. M. C. A. At that time preliminary reports on the concert will be made to the members by the officers. There will also be a social program and according to Chairman McGarrity, refreshments of a character that will appeal to all. A full attendance should be guaranteed by the latter.

A trip has been arranged for members of the Choral Society to the Eastern Penitentiary for Sunday, Feb. 11th to sing for the prisoners. Mrs. George N. Gill, who is actively interested in the prison work, has suggested that a program of choral music be given that will afford the prisoners an entirely different type of entertainment than they ordinarily receive. The suggestion met with unanimous approval of the organization as soon as it was definitely understood that passes both in and out of the Penitentiary were to be furnished. It will also be possible for friends of the organization to accompany the Society, provided their names are given to Mrs. Gill by Monday the 5th. Anyone interested in prison work may have this opportunity making the trip to the Eastern Penitentiary therefore on Sunday the 11th.

A NEW NARBERTH ORGANIZATION

A new Junior Girls' Club has been formed in Narberth. Its name is the Game Club. It was organized at the first meeting held on Saturday morning, Jan. 27, 1923, at 107 Woodside Ave. The following officers were elected:

President—Dorothy Seymour Clevenger.

Vice President—Harriet Philips Marsh.

Secretary—Jean Griffith Staples.

Treasurer—Virginia Eyre.

At this meeting each of the officers took part, and plans for the future activities of the club were fully discussed.

New members will be admitted from time to time. Each member is supposed to bring a new game to every meeting, and the Vice President decides which one shall be played.
